UNIVERSITY FORMAL DINNER AT THE ROME HOTEL, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 27

Students Toasts and Speakers on Program

Dr. Emery and A. W. Gordon to Address Guests in
Crystal Room

BANQUET THEME—HIGHROADS

A formal banquet for all the students in the University of Omaha, College of Arts and Sciences, College of Commerce and Finance, and Law School will be held a week from yesterday, Tuesday, November 27 at 7:00 P. M. in the Crystal Room of the Rome Hotel. The tickets are $1.00 per plate.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. are sponsoring the banquet. Norwood Woerner and Dorothy Manger, social chairman of the two organizations have full charge.

An orchestra, directed by Evelyn MacDonald will play during the banquet. The items on the menu are: Fruit cocktail, veal saute steak, browned potatoes, peas in butter, hot tea biscuits, combination salad with thousand island dressing, chocolate eclair and coffee.

The theme for the banquet is Highroads. Norwood Woerner has been chosen as toastmaster, and toasts will be given by representatives from the three colleges. Dr. E. W. Emery and Mr. Alfred W. Gordon, President of the Board of Trustees will also speak. There will be musical numbers from the Department of Music of the University of Omaha, and it is rumored that the main speaker of the evening will be a prominent business or professional man of this city.

The committee in charge of the program and decorations is: Elma Gove, chairman; Sherman Morgan, Merle Mennie, Jeanne Fee, Oliver Hasselblad, and Burrline Jones.

Any reservations for tables or places with special friends at one table may be made with Elma Gove in the library. All tickets should be bought and reservations made by Friday night, November 23.

There will be program place cards and decorations with yellow and white chrysanthemums which will be fitting to grace any banquet table and hall.

Faculty Will Give Dinner for Trustees

Turkey Will Play Part In Program To Be Given In Cafeteria

A turkey dinner will be given for the Board of Trustees by the faculty of the University of Omaha at 7 o'clock tonight in the cafeteria. Dr. E. W. Emery, President of the University of Omaha, with Dr. W. Gilbert James, Dean of the College of Liberal Arts and Science, and Dean N. J. Logan of the College of Music have worked out a program for the evening, the theme of which will probably be "A Bigger and Better University."

Many attractive plans have been made for this date, which promises to be one of the most interesting on the social calendar this year. The decorations for the tables and dining room have been designed by Miss Augusta Knight, head of the Art Department. The lights will be dimmed by at-

NEW MUSIC STUDIO

Due to lack of room, Professor Noel J. Logan moved his office from Studio G to Studio A, on the third floor of Joslyn Hall. This is much larger than his former studio.

A partition has been built, dividing it into an office room and a conservatory. He has very neatly arranged and decorated his conservatory, but has not furnished his office.

SEASONAL DEBATE WORK; STARTS SERIES OF DISCUSSIONS

"There will be two series of preliminary discussions on the question for debate to start the seasonal work," states Coach F. K. Gullfoil. The first meeting is at eight o'clock tonight on the third floor of the College of Commerce Building, and the second will be held tomorrow night at the same hour at the university library.

Each speaker will be allotted seven minutes in which to deliver either a main speech or a constructive argument and a refutation. The speakers will choose their own sides of the questions and argue as they see fit with no respect to team organization. If a speaker is unable to appear on the date named, he should appear on the other. The question is Resolved that: the present jury system in the United States should be abolished.

Those who speak tonight are as follows: Helena Gebuhr, Bruce Baker, Margaret Fischer, John Roberts, W. E. Schroeder, Eldridge Smiley, Orville Pierson, and R. B. Zalkin. The speakers for tomorrow night include Edwin W. Hogle, Donald Butler, Guy Nusbaum, Richard Dunham, Fred Pelcer, Gladys Mann, and Burd Arganbright.

Any other persons are invited to come if they wish a place on the squad.

CAFETERIA ENLARGED

In order to make more room for parties and social gatherings held in the cafeteria, a wide door has been cut from the cafeteria to the office of the Dean of Women and the magazine room in the basement.

The cafeteria has added a new helper, Mrs. Dinsmore, who works one hour every day. Mrs. Leslie Johnson claims business is so good that there is need for more help in order that all may be taken care of.

Honors Are Given To Professor T. Earl Sullenger

Professor T. Earl Sullenger's publications, entitled "One City's Program for Leisure Time," "Social Ministry in an American City," and "Study of the Juvenile Delinquent in Omaha" have been listed and commented upon in a recent publication entitled "Sources of Information on Play and Recreation," published by the Russell Sage Foundation, New York City.

The University of Missouri has asked for copies of all of Professor Sullenger's pamphlets published by the University of Omaha, and asked for the privilege of binding them all into one book under his name to be placed on the shelves of the University library for use by the students of the University of Missouri.

Professor Sullenger was elected to associate membership in the University of Missouri chapter of Alpha Pi Zeta, honorary national social science fraternity, last Monday evening, an honor bestowed upon visiting professors from recognized colleges and universities.

Professor Sullenger, who is now on a leave of absence, will return as head of the Sociology Department of the University of Omaha next semester.

Ethics Class To Discuss Debate

Dr. Vartanian has consented to make a critical discussion on the debate held recently in the city of Omaha of the question, "Is Man a Machine?" by Clarence Darrow and Rabbi Cohn.

The Ethics class will sponsor the discussion Friday at 10:30 in Room 10A. All students interested will be admitted. There will be a question period at the end of the hour.

The requests have been so urgent from the city of Omaha and students of the university, that the class is thrown open to everyone who desires to come.

The committee in charge of arrangements is: Glen Mahn, Fred Triffly, Florence Shearer, and Mrs. Reynolds.

ORCHESTRA PROGRESSING

The University Orchestra held their third practice, Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock, in the conservatory of Joslyn Hall. Frank Smith, director, is pleased with the ability of the orchestra, and says they are making good progress.

Professor Logan is also pleased with its progress, but he emphatically declares there are more students who play instruments, and he wants them out. He has hopes of building an orchestra of over thirty players, and in some evenings who come out will be satisfied with the work.

Foreign Secretary of Y. M. C. A. Speaks At Wed. Assembly

Harry C. White, foreign secretary of the Y. M. C. A., told of observations gained from his travels in twenty-two countries in assembly, Wednesday, November 14. Mr. White is a native of Nebraska and a world traveler.

"We Are What We Are" Mr. White told of watching the sun rise upon the most beautiful mountain scenery in the world, that of the Himalayas. In that silent universe he asked himself, "Who are you?" Thinking of how one snowdrop helps form a glacier, and in thousands of years reaches the ocean, he replied, "We are what we are because of what other people have been."

Our Richest Heritage The speaker showed how the alphabet and hundreds of languages were originated by men who have long been forgotten. "Then," he said, "Somebody discovered friendship, the richest heritage of the ages." He traced it through the growth of homes and nations to its climax in Jesus.

Warns America

Mr. White added, "America is what it is because of the ideals brought by our ancestors. North America progressed more than South America because South America was settled by Spanish seeking gold, while North America was settled by Pilgrims seeking God." He warned us that, if America does not share her advantages, she will become a dead nation. "Sixty million Indians have never eaten a satisfying meal. In India, Turkey and China together, there are fewer doctors than in Cleveland, Ohio. Six of the ten Chinese ministers have come from Christian institutions."

"You of the University of Omaha Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s are a part of the great organization that is doing this great work," Mr. White concluded.

Boehler President Of German Club

The German Club held a very novel meeting, Saturday, November 10th, at the home of Mrs. Karl Tunberg. The meeting opened with a short business meeting, all of which was conducted in German. George Boehler was elected president, and Charles Mathews, secretary-treasurer.

A German supper of some kind and variety was served, after which the remainder of the evening was spent in singing German songs and in dancing.

The next meeting will probably be held about December 10th.

FIRST ANNUAL HOMECOMING HELD; OLD GRADS AND ALUMS RETURN

SOPH DANCE SATURDAY

Fred Peirce, president of the sophomore class, announces that the sophomore dance will be given Saturday evening at 9 o'clock in Jacobs' hall. Pettigrew's orchestra will play for the dance.

Homecoming Day has been postponed until Saturday, and this accounts for the change in the date. The committee in charge of the dance includes Floyd Wilson, Lawrence Barber, Happy Cathers, Merle and Marjorie Ochiltree, Warren Hinzie, Willard Hill and Fred Peirce.

Church Affiliation Statistics Interesting

Nearly Every Religion Has Its Followers at University of Omaha.

A recent survey at the University of Omaha revealed the religious affiliations of the students. The Protestants, have a majority on the campus, 270 out of 303 giving it as their preference. Catholicism has fourteen adherents here, and Judaism, seven. Twelve did not specify their preference.

Of the numerous groups within the Protestants, the Presbyterians lead Methodists with sixty-nine. Luther has twenty-seven followers on the campus, and there are the same number of Baptists. According to the statistics, there are eighteen Episcopalians, eight Christians, five Congregational, five Latter Day Saints, four Christian Scientists, three Evangelical, three Unitarians, two United Brethren, one Nazarene, one First Reformed, one Christian and Missionary Alliance, and one Disciple of Christ.

—Bob the Bobcat—

Hubka Will Speak at Commercial Club

On account of mid-semester examinations, the last regular meeting of the Commercial Club at the College of Commerce was postponed. Coach Ernie Hubka was dated to speak at that time. He will talk at the next meeting to be held tomorrow morning at ten o'clock in the assembly room at the College of Commerce. His subject will be "Football Games and Players I have Known." The business club has invited students of the other colleges of the U. of O. to visit their club and share with them their good times.

—Bob the Bobcat—

Insurance School Will Open Jan. 1

Who would have thought of it! Of course every loyal Omaha student thinks, nay, knows, that the U. of O. is the best place going. But it is not so generally known, perhaps, that others have recognized this fact to the extent that the Insurance School, which is to open about January 1st, is the only one of its kind west of Chicago.

The College of Commerce has been and is all bustling with the activity connected with the work of starting an enterprise of this kind. Only this last Thursday Mr. Stuebel met with the executive committee of the Insurance School to plan for the teachers in the school. Mr. Campbell, one the members, said that this school is the biggest thing that the insurance men have ever had. He continued by remarking that he intended to have a close check on the students if there should be a vacancy in the faculty.

Besides the course of instruction, Mr. Underwriter that is offered at this school, an underwriter's certificate will be given.

Annual Game With Peru is Scheduled

Parade, Bonfire, Dinner and Dance Listed on Program

TO BE ANNUAL EVENT

Saturday is the big day—the day when grade come home, when students work themselves up to a pitch, and when neighbors become aware of school spirit.

Omaha University's first Homecoming began Monday, and is lasting throughout the entire week, coming to a grand climax on Saturday, when the scrapping Cardinals meet the Peru Bobcats.

The big Homecoming Week started Monday with the sale of tags, which gave the wearers the right to participate in the Bonfire on Friday evening, and the Parade, dinner program, and dance on Saturday. Members of the five sororities are competing in the ticket sale. Helena Bonorden, Pi Omega Pi pledge, is chairman of the Tag-Sales committee, and the other members are Corinne Jensen, Marjorie Thomas, Eleanor Hartnett, and Gertrude True, competing in the ticket sale.

Today a big pep meeting is to be held for the purpose of practicing and learning yells and to form a rooting squad for the Saturday game. All students are urged to be out. "We must have about one hundred and fifty students to carry out our plans," said I. A. Hammer, Chairman of the committee.

Another big pep meeting will be held at the Friday Assembly when the student body will greet the alumni. Arthur Thomson and Herbert Fischer, U. of O. graduates, have sent out letters to other alumni. All former students are requested to register at Joslyn Hall either Friday or Saturday. The Pep Squad has charge of the activities on Friday which include a huge bonfire to be held on the campus at 24th and Evans Sts. at eight o'clock Friday night.

Saturday, the day of days, will start out with a big parade, the time of which will be announced later. Fraternities and sororities are entering floats, and all students are asked to enter their cars in the parade. See Cecil Simmons and make all arrangements.

In the afternoon Omaha meets Peru in the big Homecoming football game. The fighting Hubkates are out for a win, and both teams are primed for the contest. Between halves the Pep Squad will furnish entertainment.

Following the game a dinner will be served from the cafeteria. F. K. Gullfoil is in charge of this. At seven o'clock there will be a social hour, during which time an orchestra will play, the male quartet singing, and the gym classes will give demonstrations.

At nine o'clock the Cardinals Club will give a game in Joslyn Hall for the students, faculty, alumni and friends of the university. A General Committee, composed of the Student Council, and the Athletic Council, will be in charge.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Professor E. J. Logan is for a shift in the Student Council, and has proposed that the student body elect a new council.

Professor Logan says that the Student Council is the only body that can represent the student body, and that it should be a body that is elected by the student body.

TRIALS OF AN EDITOR

(Dedicated to the Editor of The Gateway)

My job, instead of being one,
Comes nearer being fifty,
I thought before I started, it
Was something rather nifty.
But gosh! I never knew the work
Filed on an editor;
For if I had, I'm very sure
I'd hurried through the door.

I wake in early morning
And to the office dash—
To keep that darned reporting staff
From doing something rash
And to my Advertising Manager
Each day I spill my talk,
But for all the good it seems to do
I'd better take a walk.

Each student and each teacher brings
His grievances to me,
They must think I'm a wise old bird—
A seeress—don't you see?
A word's mispelled, I get the blame,
Somebody's slammed, Oh Wow,
They make a dash straight for my desk
And threaten ME and how!

It's a job, this being editor.
But I like it, honest I do.
Though it's lots of work, in pleasant work.
And it's work I love to do.
And the folks may save the whole day through
And the staff be as dumb as me—
I'll stand by the Gateway of Omaha U.
It's an editor's life for me.

Y. M. C. A. Presents Program at Chapel

The assembly Monday, Nov. 12, was in charge of the two "Y's". The meeting opened as usual with a song and Dr. Vartanian led in prayer. Then Don Butler, president of the Y. M. C. A., took charge of the program.

Vivian Krikel, enthusiastic Y. W. worker, told what the Y. W. has meant to her. "In Y work I have met more real friends than I could have in any other way," she declared.

Lorane Schonfeld then told what the Y. M. C. A. meant to him and the other young men on the campus. "There must be some moral ideals formed in college," said he. "The Y. M. provides this for the men of the college while the Y. W. is the organization that does so for the women."

The vested choir then sang two selections, "The Shepherd" and "Beautiful Lord." With the first of these, Mr. Logan sang the solo part; with the second, Elizabeth Chase carried the solo part.

Dr. Vartanian then told of the attitude of the faculty toward the "Y's." "Individually and collectively, we are behind you," he said. Then he pleaded with students to support the organizations in their financial drive.

Donald Butler then explained that about five hundred dollars was needed for the successful completion of the year's work, and told how the drive for funds would be carried on.

LAW SCHOOL NOTES

One of the interesting new courses added to the fourth year curriculum this year is "Nebraska Pleading and Practice" with Mr. John Barton as instructor. The Nebraska Statutes are used as the text-book, giving the course an unusual value from the standpoint of the student. Each week the students draw various types of pleadings which are corrected and explained by the instructor. A course such as this is unique in law schools for most schools put the emphasis upon the academic instead of practical side of law.

Because of this course the students of the University of Omaha Law School are better equipped to take the Nebraska Bar examination, where emphasis is placed upon the statutes, and are also much more versed in the actual practice of law than the average graduate of a law school. The intense interest and the enthusiasm which this course is receiving assures for it a permanent place in the curriculum of the school, strengthening the course to an appreciable degree.

"Color Line" Is Given by Joint Y Organizations

At a joint Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. meeting held Tuesday, November 13, in the Conservatory, a play, "The Color Line," was presented. Considering the fact that a mid-semester exam followed the assembly period that day, there was a good attendance at the meeting.

Is Religious Play

"The Color Line" is a religious play depicting the race prejudice in America which is nominally a Christian country. The characters in the play are all played by students at the University of Omaha. The "Y's" have been permitted to present the play in ten churches of the city. The loose collections received are used in a special convention fund of the organizations. It was given a week ago Sunday at the Benson Methodist Church.

Story Is Interesting

The story of the play is as follows: Chun Fu (Donald Butler) is a Chinese student in an American college. He has renounced Christianity and determines to return to China and help his father fight against the Christians. Barbara McKean (Linda Bradway), the daughter of Dr. McKean who converted Chun Fu, has just received word that her father was killed in a massacre. She determines to go to China, although she still has another year of school to finish. She is engaged to Stanley Preston (Fred Widoe) who is inclined toward militarism, and insists that she stay and finish college. Wanda Williams (Ellen Ann Slader), one of Barbara's girl friends, also urges her to stay and finish college. Dr. Lawson (Norwood Woerner) who is the president of the college, cannot understand that Barbara must go in love for the Chinese to tell them about Christ. Dr. Lawson's secretary, Miss King (Elma Gove) tell him that he has a long distance call from San Francisco. Even Chun Fu advises Barbara not to go and tells her about his hatred for American society and its racial prejudice. Barbara tries to persuade him that that is not Christian, and she determines more than ever to go to China. Dr. Lawson comes and announces that it was Chun's father who had led the massacre in which Dr. McKean was killed, yet Barbara loves Chun. Then he knows that Barbara is truly Christian. Finally Stanley Preston decides if Barbara will go to China, he will go too.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Did you notice all the oval pickups in last issue? This probably can be accounted for when we think of all the pickups made in the Dana game.

"Four score and seven years ago," our fore fathers who are now in the backfield, scored a score that had never been scored before again: their rivals. Now are we, as an institution of learning, going to let fame which was once ours, die? No! We will uphold the colors of our University, and will go out, and with the cooperation of the team and student body, will win the game between Peru and the U. of O. Victory will resound once more in the hall.

"Y" Organizations Holds Financial Drive November 13

Last Wednesday at 10:30, active members of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. invaded all classrooms, and launched their financial drive. A personal letter was given to each student, and then the speaker told where the individual contributions would be used, for bills on Color Day, formal banquet on November 27, formal reception in the spring, and parties every other month given for the men and women separately. All these are free of charge.

On the pledgeships, the spirit of the "Ys" was expressed in the words: To boost the "Y" is to boost the school. All the pledges have not been turned in; but so far the drive is considered very successful.

The "Y" organizations are intending to establish a precedent. They intend to pay the tuition for some foreign student in a foreign college. In this way, each student generation will have a part in helping a foreign student to graduate from college. This gives Omaha University a world outlook. The project will stand out as unique among the colleges and universities of the United States.

Power of Youth

There are about 13,000,000 young men in the United States of the teen age. Were they to march ten abreast, twelve feet apart, they would form a column 2800 miles long, almost the distance from New York to San Francisco. They could start with the raw materials and build the Brooklyn bridge in 8 hours. They could build the Chinese wall in five days. They could build a railroad between New York and San Francisco between the rising and the setting of the sun. The problem of saving them from habits that wreck, from idleness, from atrophying luxury, from misdirected energy, and helping them to form habits that build character and that make for efficiency and good citizenship, is enormous.

SIGHT-READING CLASS ORGANIZED

Mrs. Karl Werndorf, prominent music instructor of Council Bluffs, has organized a Piano Sight-reading Class. They are working on rapid reading of Sonatas and Symphonies of note composers. They are now doing four hand work, and are building up to ten hands. There are four sections to the Sight-reading Class, that meets every Thursday.

FIRST ANNUAL HOMECOMING HELD

committees are in charge of all events. The committees of students is composed of Dorothy Manger, chairman, Herbert Hudson, Norwood Woerner, June Pickard, and Paul Fay, and the faculty committee is as follows: I. A. Hammer, chairman, F. K. Gullfoll, Cecil Simmons, and Dean A. J. Dunlap. Preliminary plans for the Homecoming were made and operations begun by a committee from the Student Council with the following members: Richard Dunham, chairman, Katherine Price, Dorothy Manger, and Don McMahon.

ON HOMECOMING 1928

Heard the latest? Oh, you know it. Our "alums" are coming home! For a time we'll meet and greet them. And we're glad to see them come. Glad to have them in our portals. Seeing what their school has done—Yes, they're coming and we're rejoicing. For we're glad to see them come. For they love their alma mater. Just the same as I or you. They are looking to its future; They'll do all that they can do. They are sharing in its glory. As it pushes toward its goal. And we know we have them with us. Mind and body, heart and soul. Our U. of O., it has school spirit. Fostered by the love we bear. By the love our Grads have given. By the fact that they still care. 'Twon't be long till our Homecoming. Oh, we're glad to see it come. All the school is now rejoicing—Our "alums" are coming home!

I pledge allegiance to my university, and to the ideals for which it stands; one spirit, co-operation, with loyalty, and support for all enterprises.
